Account Codes

If your companies or even you have Account Code private fares for certain journeys, had below the Account Codes you want to consider in air searches. Please note that to offer Account Code fares in air search results, it is necessary to make an many additional air search requests as the Account Codes you want to include which will slower search response time and increase book to search ratio. We recommend that you be as specific as possible about applicable origin-destinations when adding Account Codes. Having this in mind, and to avoid you having to add the same Account Code as many times as the origin-destinations to which it is applicable, we created a setting's area where you can define your regions or use the ones provided. When adding your Account Codes, besides being able to set origin-destination based on cities/airports and countries you will be able to use the application default regions or your own.
